West Coast Presenters

DR. JOSEPH BERKSON

Joe has been an antinuclear weapons advocate since living through the cold war. As a young physician, he joined WPSR in 1985 and has been a member since then. Now retired with more time available, he joined the Nuclear Weapons Abolition Task Force in 2018, and was honored to be asked to co-chair the task force in 2019, leading WPSR's efforts to lobby members of congress along with WPSR members, and helping to build the largest anti-nuclear coalition of its kind in the U.S.

SEAN ARENT

Sean grew up in Roy, Washington, in the shadow of Joint Base Lewis-McChord. A lifelong activist and organizer, he graduated from the University of Washington Tacoma with a bachelor's degree in Politics & Philosophy with a minor in Human Rights. He is an avid outdoorsman who is passionate about ecological restoration, farming, and working-class struggle.

DON WATSON

Don is an active Lay Church Leader and retired Mathematics Teacher. Don has served on the Regional American Baptist Board of Directors and is currently the administrator for STARS, (Serving Those AROUND uS). Since retirement Don also works part time with the Oregon Department of Education.

East Coast Presenters

RICK POLHAMUS

Rick is a member of Community Peacemaker Teams (CPT) and has worked in the Middle East for 22 years. He has experience in violence reduction, conflict resolution and conflict transformation, negotiation, and mediation. Polhamus has lived and worked in many places with CPT including South Dakota, Mexico, Colombia, Puerto Rico, Palestine/Israel, and Iraq. He has been CPT's representative to the World Council of Churches (WCC). He worked with CPT-Iraq's Adopt-A-Detainee and CPT's Violence Is Not Child's Play campaign.

STEVE LEEPER

Steve Leeper has spent about half of his 74 years in Japan. He has a master's degree in clinical psychology and has worked as a family counselor, management consultant, translator, and peace activist. He began working for Mayors for Peace in 2002, which led to his appointment in 2007 as chairman of the Hiroshima Peace Culture Foundation. He stepped down in 2013 and currently is visiting professor at Hiroshima Jogakuin University and Nagasaki University. He is co-founder of Peace Culture Village in Hiroshima and PEAC Institute in Montclair, NJ, Detroit, MI, and Atlanta, GA.

About World Friendship Center (WFC)

The World Friendship Center (WFC) was founded in Hiroshima in 1965 by Barbara Reynolds, a peace activist who aimed to bring attention to the inhumanity of nuclear weapons.

The WFC continues her lifelong advocacy for the abolition of nuclear weapons, and serves as a place for people from around the world to meet, share their experiences, and think about peace.

The center is staffed by volunteer Directors from America and Japanese staff, who work alongside the board to provide a place for learning about peace through hibakusha testimonies and guided tours of the Peace Park.
